

Wear Red for Ed - Tuesday March 4th

On Tuesday, March 4th, we are urging UHPA members and community supporters to wear red to take a stand and send a clear message: we will not waver when it comes to our students' futures. By doing so, you will be joining higher education and K-12 educators across the country for a National Day of Action in support of public education, our communities, and our children. This effort is part of the AFT's "Protect Our Kids" campaign, launched in response to the Trump administration's proposed cuts to the Department of Education, which the union sees as a direct threat to public schools and the nearly 50 million children who rely on them.

Help make March 4th a day to stand united and demand the respect, resources, and investment our students and educators deserve and join us in this powerful show of solidarity. Learn more about the history and significance of the Red for Ed movement here.

How to Participate

On Tuesday, March 4th, show your support by wearing red and encouraging your friends, colleagues, and family—especially your keiki and students—to do the same! Capture the moment and share your photos on Facebook and Instagram using the hashtags #RedForEd, #RedForPublicEd, and #WeAreUHPA.

If you don't have social media and you would like to help show UHPA's involvement in this movement with AFT, please send your pictures to sdayan@uhpa.org.

Stay tuned for more updates, and let's spread the word together
